Dear Pastors,

This is the second in a series of booklets put together to assist pastors in building their libraries with tools for their trade.

A carefully assembled collection of good study tools is essential to the pastor who is, as Paul instructed Timothy, to “be diligent to present yourself approved to God as a workman who does not need to be ashamed, handling accurately the word of truth.”

2 Timothy 2:15

To this end I have compiled a list of commentaries on New Testament books. They are put into two categories: The first is exegetical. When preparing to preach on a text of scripture, it's important to understand the meaning of the text. Please don't neglect good exegetical commentaries. The second category is: Homiletical/Devotional to help the preacher know how other great preachers have handled the text before.

Charles Spurgeon wrote in his book Commenting & Commentaries, “In order to be able to expound the Scriptures, and as an aid to your pulpit studies, you will need to be familiar with the commentators: a glorious army, let me tell you, whose acquaintance will be your delight and profit. Of course, you are not such wiseacres as to think or say that you can expound Scripture without assistance from the works of divines and learned men who have labored before you in the field of exposition. If you are of that opinion, pray remain so, for you are not worth the trouble of conversion, and like a little coterie who think with you, would resent the attempt as an insult to your infallibility. It seems odd, that certain men who talk so much of what the Holy Spirit reveals to themselves, should think so little of what he has revealed to others.”

I hope this list helps you. Some of the books listed are out of print. Happy hunting! Thanks to Stacey James and Lee Coe for their help in putting this resource booklet together.
